

J.J. HURTAK, PH.D., PH.D.
A CADEMY FOR FUTURE SCIENCE
P.O. Box FE
Los Gatos, CA 95031 USA
affs@affs.org

April 12, 2010

Jacqueline Ripstein
Aventura, FL

To whom it may concern:

I write this testimonial to the work of Jacqueline Ripstein, who has a great artistic gift she can provide to the world. Her work carries forth great psychological and spiritual insights for humanity. As a world renowned painter she has always encouraged people of all backgrounds and religions to see the higher theme of the "Divine Feminine" as a spark of actual experience in a world beset by the clouds of uncertainty and climate change. Now it is becoming timely that she proceeds with her next great project which will bring together the themes of the Feminine in the East and West.

The next triptych artwork project, which Jacqueline is tentatively calling "The Divine Feminine" will continue where she left off after her earlier painting of "Our Lady of the Universe." I expect it to be equally enjoyed by all. I remember when she brought "Our Lady of the Universe" to the United Nations as a testament to the universal nature of the Divine Mother that exists beyond ideology and theology as a reconciliation of all humanity with the image of hope between all nations of the world. It was also shown in Spain by a Jewish artist believing in the Divine Plan of Imma (the Divine Mother) and later at the Parliament of the World's Religions in 2004.

The manifestation of "The Divine Feminine" will represent that which awakens the soul into higher states of creativity. This new work will embody the Divine Mother both in different cycles of history, and at the same time as transcending history. And, so, in striking beauty, the world waits in expectation to see her new work which will both Transform and be an expression of Love to the peoples of the world. It will also exemplify the energies of reconciliation, forgiveness, conflict resolution and blessings of love and compassion shared with the energy of Christ.

I know that the Divine Feminine will reveal Her inner and outer beauty through Ms. Ripstein. And her art will reveal the poetic grace and inner work which exemplifies who She is as an integral part of the Supreme Godhead. Just as She has manifested in countries all over the world her triptych will be one of Her manifestations. She will shine in our hearts as a living image of Her return to awaken the spark of the Divine nature within ourselves.

In short, I highly recommend Jacqueline's new project which is vital for the reconciliation of humanity through the image of The Divine Feminine and look forward to her new manifestation,

Prof. Dr. Dr. J.J. Hurtak,
AFFS Corporation, NGO-ECOSOC, United Nations